AVS Publicity Exchange Policies
Effective: January 1, 2010

AVS agrees to provide publicity support to supporting societies, publications, vendors, etc. who play an important role each year in publicizing AVS events. Outlined below are the AVS’ policies for exchanging or renting display table and booth space at various AVS sponsored events throughout the year, including the AVS International Symposium; AVS membership lists, comprised of chapter, division, and technical group members; and articles and announcements in the AVS Newsletter.

Display Table Space Policy
Groups who provide publicity assistance to AVS, especially with regard to its International Symposium (i.e., calendar announcements, articles, display tables, mailing lists, etc.), are offered display table space (6’x 3’) to set out literature and/or magazines near the registration area at the AVS International Symposium. Note that the location and proximity of the display tables will vary according to the facilities.

The AVS will be responsible for setup and display of this literature at its International Symposium, keeping it neat and stocked throughout the week. Folding table-top booths are acceptable; however, the AVS is not responsible for return shipments.

Booth Space Policy
The standard 8’x10’x 8’ booths are only available to AVS chapters, divisions, technical groups, or committees.

AVS Mailing List Policy
The use of the AVS membership lists are not permitted by commercial organizations for advertising books, journals, or short courses, regardless of their potential interest to the membership. The AVS membership list may be exchanged or rented by:

- Exchange
  - All AVS sponsored or cosponsored conferences, workshops, short courses, and by any of its chapters, divisions, technical groups, etc.

  - Nonprofit organizations wishing to announce conferences, workshops, short course that are clearly of interest to the AVS membership.

  - Publications which provide publicity support relating to the AVS International Symposium may be provided specified use at the discretion of the Publicity Committee Chair.

- Rental
  - AVS International Symposium exhibitors or advertisers in the Journal of Vacuum Science and Technology (JVST) may be granted one-time use at the current rental rates ($100 per 1,000 names + $100 processing fee). Companies must sign a user agreement and submit a sample of their mail piece.

Please note that any list exchange or rental is for one-time use only.

AVS Newsletter Policy
Meeting announcements and positions available are often published in the AVS Newsletter. Submissions will be printed only as space permits and at the discretion of the Editor. Meeting announcements, if published, will appear only once in the First Announcements section of any issue prior to the meeting date. The announcement will then remain in the Meetings Calendar section until the date passes.
Mass E-mail Lists Policy

The National Office maintains and controls mass e-mail lists for the entire membership, and every individual division, group, and chapter. The office will honor the request of any division, chapter, or group chair wishing to circulate information about an AVS sponsored or co-sponsored conference or event. Any individual, other than the Chair, wishing to use a list, must secure the Chair’s approval before making a request.

Please note that requests to circulate non-AVS information are not honored.

The following lists have been created for your convenience and may be used by you directly.
